New Rules for Global Markets - Public and Private Governance in the World Economy
This collection looks at the need for new rules and the divergence of national attitudes towards global economic governance. It covers the role of states in negotiating international trade, in regulating the banks and in promoting trilateralism. It investigates the role of business by assessing its increased power in writing the rules for self-regulation and in influencing the public sphere

More changes to AP funds investment rules on the horizon ...

The report, commissioned by the Swedish government, referred to new rules in force for API-4 since 1 January 2019 and said the updating exercise should continue. Discussions are already under way among legislators for the funds to be allowed to invest directly, following calls from the funds themselves for more scope to make such investments.
